In order to assure that the Comptroller, NRO, was well aware of the itemized breakdown of our financial status, we provided him with a Status of Funds Report for the period ending 31 December 1963 under

The Comptroller will note from that report that the programmed amount for photographic material and processing totaled [redacted] We have been able to manage our funding within this programmed amount, which was the same amount presented to [redacted] last year when OSA justified to him our operational program for the NRO.

2. I would also like to call to your attention that the projected funding within the programmed accounts includes approximately [redacted] which was spent in direct support of [redacted] for Operation BRASS KNOB. As agreed by the D/NRO, 15 per cent of I-HF-47 covers the procurement of film, paper and chemicals in support of the Air Force DRAGON LADY Program. In effect then, none of the NRO contracts stated above involve non-NRO work except those authorized by the NRO itself. In two isolated instances, [redacted] for repair and overhaul of a flexowriter at NROC was taken from [redacted] 1800, and an additional [redacted] was used for the procurement of spare parts in behalf of the 67th RT3. These errors were corrected, however, when called to the Contract Officer's attention by the NRO Comptroller.

3. I am confident that there are no deficiencies in the management of our photographic contracts. I do feel, however, that a great deal of misunderstanding which prompts the likes of referenced memoranda could be avoided with a closer working relationship at a lower level. Items such as this could have been readily explained had the Comptroller sought to do so at his level rather than refer the matter to you. Rather than continue this battle of papers, I suggest that we get the interested parties from the Pentagon and CIA in conference and work out a procedure for handling all of our photographic contracts for the benefit of the IIC.
